Curate's Corner

A year ago, I was hastily trying to finish my academic work for college whilst preparing for ordination as a deacon. I was meant to be ordained as a deacon in June 2020. Due to the pandemic, it was actually August, when in a very empty Norwich Cathedral the Bishop of Norwich laid hands on me and I was ordained deacon. The ministry of a deacon is focussed on service in the way that Christ came to serve others. As a deacon I have been leading church services (but not Holy Communion), preaching, conducting funerals, leading school assemblies and generally being involved in the community and church here in the Tas Valley Benefice.

The last year has been a wonderful experience. It has been a delight meeting so many lovely people and participating in God's work in these villages. I have begun to learn about the communities of the Tas Valley Benefice but some opportunities have been limited due to lockdowns and other restrictions.

It is an exciting time as hopefully I will be ordained priest in a service in Norwich Cathedral at 10.30am on Saturday 26th June. (Yes, I get two ordinations!) Once I have been ordained priest, I will additionally be able to lead services of Holy Communion and give God's blessing. I will remain as a member of the Tas Valley Team for a further two to three years.

After last year's ordination as deacon when I was allowed only ten guests, I hope that many more will be able to come this year. At the time of writing, it is uncertain what restrictions will be in place. A few people have already asked if they can come to the Cathedral service on 26th June. If anyone else is interested in coming please can you let me know?

I will be presiding at my first service of Holy Communion at St Peter's Church, Swainsthorpe at 10am on Sunday 27th June. This will be a benefice service. Again, we will have to wait to see if restrictions still apply. I hope this will be a celebratory service where people from across the benefice can join together.

All good wishes

Rev'd Coryn

Appointments Update

Dear patients, we're sure you've seen all the press about GP appointments over the last few days. We wanted to communicate with you to let you know what we at Long Stratton are doing to make sure you get the care you need in a safe and efficient way that keeps our clinicians and staff safe and protecting them from becoming burnt out.

First, a brief summary on where we are currently: GPs in England are seeing 1 million more patients a week than a year ago, this is reflective of the increased workload we ourselves have seen at Long Stratton. GPs and their teams have also delivered the majority of the vaccine campaign on top of the increased number of appointments. What this means is you have a system very close to breaking. If we were to move back to our old system of seeing patients face to face every time and maintain safe social distancing, we would see around half the number of patients we are currently able to and the queue would be as far as the co-op. We therefore will continue to evolve our approach to appointments as we have done throughout the pandemic. We have continued to see patients face to face where needed and will continue to do so, on the basis of need. In order to get through the huge volume of work in a day, our doctors have to prioritise how they deal with patients and many problems can and will continue to be dealt with remotely.

So what does this mean for you as a patient? We will continue to operate a triage system where our reception team will ask you for information about the problem and our clinicians will assess how best you can be helped - this may be by sending you information, asking you to send us pictures, or calling you or asking you to attend the surgery.

To remain safe, this will be decided by our clinical team. To keep our staff and other patients (people who attend the surgery for routine care) safe, please do not attend the surgery unless you have been asked, or genuinely have no other way of contacting us. We will continue to review our system weekly and adapt it as we need, but we felt it was important to communicate with you at this time because of the national press coverage.

Dr Paul Weeks
LSMP PPG

The pandemic rages on with many of you watching the news from India. The rest of the world is helping in various ways to help India combat the present situation as it has implications for the rest of the world. The vaccination roll out program continues successfully in our country. As the country slowly releases the restrictions and we move towards normalising life, let us hope that the rest of the world also achieves a similar state. If restrictions have to remain longer it is important that we understand the reasons and respond in a disciplined manner to keep our country safe.

This week, I write about the crisis in the NHS. The first article in the BMJ (British Medical Journal) of the 8th of May has the glaring headline 'GPs are at breaking point,' leaders warn. The article discussed the intense workload facing doctors and staff. NHS Digital - the platform that designs, develops and operates the national IT and data services that support clinicians at work, help patients get the best care, and use data to improve health and care – have published figures that we don't find surprising as we have felt the pressure in the last 12 months of our working career. The figures showed that practices in England delivered almost five million more appointments in March than the month before and nearly three million more than in March 2019. This does not include a large proportion of the vaccine programme undertaken by practices. The BMA's (British Medical Association) tracker survey of GPs and hospital doctors showed that half of the respondents said they planned to work fewer hours in the next 12 months, a quarter said they were 'more likely' to take a career break, a fifth said they were planning to leave the NHS for another career and around a third said they were considering early retirement. Around 4240 doctors participated in this survey.

A typical day in our practice is now a twelve hour working day with practically 15 – 20 minutes break sometime in the middle of the day, when we insist that all doctors meet for coffee as it is the one time in those twelve hours that I might see a colleague working with me in the same corridor. Lunch in front of the computer has become a norm for me. I initially thought it was my inefficiency causing me to work such long hours until I read the open letter sent out by Ivy Grove Surgery in Derbyshire to its patients. It was a 16 page letter outlining the huge demand it was facing and the resulting risk of staff burnout. It had noted a doubling of demand over recent months with some patients submitting several requests a day. This letter caused a stir among patients and fellow GPs. I did indeed feel better knowing that it was not my inefficiency causing me to feel overwhelmed. NHS England and the Government are aware of our difficult situation and we are hoping to find that there will be some intelligent planning for the future.

This should not put you off contacting us for appropriate physical and mental health problems. We want to do our best for our patients. It is important that everyone is aware of the considerable strain the NHS is facing and work with us to ensure best practice.

Wishing you all a lovely summer! Take care.

Dr Mini Nelson

Midsummer Madness, our annual summer fete, will be in the evening of Friday 9th July, 6-8pm. Having been unable to hold MSM last year, we are determined to come back bigger and better than ever. In preparation, we would welcome donations of tombola and raffle prizes, or any bottles for our bottle stall. We welcome anyone wishing to have an 'external' stall for a small fee - please email us at friendsNFPS@hotmail.com or message us via our FaceBook page: www.facebook.com/FriendsOfNewtonFlotmanPrimarySchool

Don't forget that If you have been having a clear out during the recent lock-down, please keep clothes, bags, belts, paired shoes, linen and soft toys for our next Bag2School collection which will take place on July 13th. Filled bags will need to be at school by 9am on this date, or can be placed on your doorstep (in Newton Flotman) for collection between 1 and 3pm on Monday 12th.

Please remember to continue to support the Friends of School by making your online purchases count for us. It's easy to do, and we have two ways to do it:

For all your Amazon purchases, please use Amazon Smile at https://smile.amazon.co.uk/ For all other online purchases, please access your online retailer via EasyFundraising.org.uk For both of these websites, search for Friends of Newton Flotman School and set us as your beneficiary. We will then receive a kick-back at no extra cost to you.

Church services remain a mix of live and zoom screening this month, with a benefice service at Swainsthorpe on June 27th at which Coryn will be 'celebrating' Holy Communion for the first time, after her ordination the day before. Our prayers are with Coryn as she prepares for this next stage of her ministry.

We held our Annual Parish Meeting last month and reflected on the year and appointed officers, it also gave us a chance to thank those who do so much for the work of the church in the village. A reference copy of the Benefice Annual Report is available in church and can be emailed or printed on request. Contact details below. Looking forward, we are registering as an ECO Church (not to be confused with our monthly service!) as part of the Diocese's Eco Diocese status. We have had some reparation works to the roof this month and further investigations regarding the treatment required for the beetle activity in the woodwork in the roof and tower.

As last year we will only be mowing rides through the north and south areas of the churchyard, do take a stroll and see the meadow develop and the diversity of the plants and wildlife that this initiative attracts. Eco church participants have placed sources of water around these areas to support the wildlife.

We are aiming to replace a small dead tree on the Church Road side of the churchyard, if anything is known about the tree we are planning to replace please let us know.

Thank you to those who donated during Christian Aid week – more news on this next month.

Outreach Post Office Tuesdays at St Mary's church 2-4pm

Thankfully (at the time of writing) the Post Office is up and running smoothly again and we have to thank David Wharton for pursuing this. Thank you, too, to the team of Post Office stewards who volunteer to make sure the church can offer shelter from the elements and comply with covid guidelines.

We next meet on 12th June at 11am, please get in touch if you would like to join us. We would like to hear from anyone who can help with information regarding the Goulty family. We have had an enquiry from a chap in Wymondham researching the Goulty family, and he was enquiring about Barzilla Goulty whose was burial record cites that they were buried at Newton Flotman in 1821. We have a detail plan of the church yard but can find no reference of a grave bearing that name. In the other records we have to hand we haven't found any reference to the Goulty family but have found two Barizillas on the 1881 census both Brightons – one 6 months and one 66 years.

We have published a new church history booklet – hard copies are available at church compliments of the Heritage Lottery Fund and a copy can be emailed. Contact Kirsten Remer kirstenremer@gmail.com 01508 471580

June – RHS Tips For The Garden This Month

June 21st is the longest day of the year, and the extra light and warmth encourages the garden to put on an exuberant burst of growth. But this extra light and warmth also means weeds will sprout up from seemingly nowhere. Keep on top of them by hoeing regularly in dry conditions. Also this month:

1. Hoe borders regularly to keep down weeds
2. Be water-wise, especially in drought-affected areas
3. Pinch out side shoots on tomatoes
4. Harvest lettuce, radish, other salads and early potatoes
5. Position summer hanging baskets and containers outside
6. Mow lawns at least once a week
7. Plant out summer bedding
8. Stake tall or floppy plants
9. Prune many spring-flowering shrubs
10. Shade greenhouses to keep them cool and prevent scorch

Newton Flotman Preschool News

'Learning together through play'

As things gradually begin to get back to normal, we have had a big increase in children attending the preschool, we have been making the most of the sunshine and spending lots of time in our lovely outdoor area. As the summer approaches we will be getting our "bigger" children ready for their transitions to new schools.

We do currently have some limited availability for most sessions and availability for all sessions in September. We offer term time childcare for children aged 2 and over opening on a Monday-Thursday 9-3.30 and Friday 9-1. We are able to offer 2-year funding, 30 hour funding and tax free childcare.

For more details or to arrange a look around the preschool please contact Janice on 01508 470680 or email: manager@newtonflotmanpreschool.co.uk
